The VOYAGER Game Implementation

The Voyager EU-wide Competitions have taken place with great success in France, Greece, Turkey, Bulgaria, and Austria, bringing together hundreds of young people to learn, play, and take action for a greener future.

Designed as an interactive way to raise awareness on environmental issues, the competitions invited teams of 6–10 young participants to complete a series of challenges through a specially developed mobile app. Each team tackled five mandatory challenges and selected additional optional ones, all aimed at strengthening knowledge, creativity, and eco-friendly habits.

Guided by dedicated Game Masters, participants tracked their progress, earned points, and competed in a spirit of collaboration and innovation. The focus was not only on the game itself, but on learning and shaping attitudes towards sustainability.

How to play it yourself?

Curious to take on the eco-challenges yourself? The competition is open beyond our pilot events, and you can easily join in with your own team! Simply gather 6–10 friends, form your group, and get ready to complete a series of fun, educational challenges through our interactive app. To receive the game link and full instructions, just get in touch with our consortium at info@voyager.eu and start your own eco-journey today!
